BETHEL LIBRARY TO OPEN WEDNESDAYS AND HOLD OPEN HOUSE OCT. 19

A reception at the Bethel Public Library will be held on Wednesday Oct. 19 from 4 to 8 p. m. to commemorate the inauguration of new Wednesday hours and to officially recognize the Library's "new look". The public is cordially invited to attend, have some refreshments and become familiar with the many changes that have occurred in the library during the past few months.

At the annual meeting of the Library Trustees held in April, Wednesday hours (1-5 p. m.) were approved and the Executive Committee was empowered to put them into effect at the appropriate time. Now that the current library renovation project is completed, the time has come for adding another day that the building will be open to serve its patrons.

The current renovation project was funded by a grant from the William Bingham II Betterment Fund. The project was under the supervision of a committee consisting of Stanley Howe, chairman; Cathy Newell, Margaret Tibbets, John Head (all of whom form the Library's Executive Committee), plus Norris, Brown, head of the Library's Building Committee, Librarians Virginia Keniston and Mary Valentine, and two members-at-large of the reading public, Richard Stevens and Mary continued on Page Four

LIBRARY RENOVATIONS—The new check-out counter and librarian's space at the Bethel Public Library are part of the "new look" the library gained during 1983. An open house, tours and refreshments will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 19. Also on that date, the library will be open on each Wednesday afternoon from 1-5 o'clock in addition to its other hours.

OUTING CLUB ANNOUNCES ANNUAL SKI EQUIPMENT SALE

The Bethel Outing Club has announced that its annual ski sale of new and used alpine and cross country ski equipment will be held Friday, Oct. 28, 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. and Saturday, Oct. 29, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the Telstar Regional Middle/High School Gymnasium in Bethel.

This third annual ski sale is the Bethel Outing Club's one major fund raising activity of the year to provide financing for the club's many activities.

The Bethel Outing Club is dedicated to promoting and supporting nordic skiing in the greater Bethel area, particularly the Junior Ski Development Program for youth five to 20 years. The club also sponsors many family oriented outings. The highlight of last year's many community services was hosting the Bill Koch Youth Ski League's Eastern Regional Championships, for 400 young competitors, thirteen and under.

The B. O. C. has enjoyed tremendous success and growth with its first two sales due to the outstanding participation and support of many volunteer helpers and the many area ski shops that were represented.

Busy October Meeting Schedule Planned

Beginning with last evening's (Oct. 12) public hearing by the Planning Board on the proposed Opera House Condominium, a variety of public hearings, information sessions and meetings are scheduled as municipal boards and committees gear up for a busy fall season.

The new owner of the Opera House, located between the Bethel Inn and Fire Station on Mill Hill Street, has proposed that the structure be converted into a time-sharing plan type condominium and has petitioned the Planning Board for subdivision approval. Pursuant to Bethel's "Revised Subdivision Regulations" Ordinance, the Planning Board is conducting a public hearing in the Town Office Meeting Room. Several citizens attended to voice comments concerning the project and its projected impact on the Bethel Historic District. Chairman Dick Hosterman thanked all who attended for their input. The subdivision proposal will be voted on at the next Planning Board meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 26, in the Town Office Meeting Room.

Other meetings scheduled are:
Monday, Oct. 17, Selectmen's Meeting. Agenda items will include: a public hearing on a new General Assistance ordinance; signing of warrant for the Special Town Meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 1, and for the referendum of Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Ski Coaches Association and Nordic Technical Director for the U. S. Ski Team. Steve ran a widely acclaimed series of clinics last year, and has hit the road again to help spread the latest word in cross country skiing.

Coaches who wish to be certified can do so by attending this clinic, passing a test, and joining the U. S. Ski Coaches Association. For more information, please contact Bob Remington at Telstar during the day 824-2136 or at home during the evening 824-3369. ## Directors' Meeting

The S. A. D. 44 Board of Directors met in regular session at the Crescent Park School on Monday evening of this week.

Mrs. Jolene Shimamura presented Board members a brief update on the Early Prevention of School Failure program that is in operation this fall. The program is aimed at preventing failure rather than the correction afterwards, and the providing of a positive motivating factor (failure is not a motivation). The program also enables the early identification of learning disabilities in students as well as the especially gifted student.

The appointment of Florence Walker as a cafeteria worker at Telstar was approved by the Directors.

Following an executive session the Board approved by a vote of 13-0 the following as finding of fact in a case involving a Telstar student: "That a freshman at Telstar High School was guilty as charged with being in possession and furnishing to another student marijuana while on school property." Dr. Howe of Bethel requested that he be recorded as abstaining on the question.

By a roll-call vote the Directors assessed the following penalty concerning the aforementioned Telstar student: "That said student be expelled from Telstar High School for the safety and well-being of the school population. That the Student undergo a Substance Use/Abuse Evaluation as outlined by Board Policy B, Article 17. That the student be referred to the Telstar Pupil Evaluation Team for a review. That the student be readmitted to Telstar High after Board approval." The vote was 13 yes, two no, and three abstentions.

Safety Tip of the Week

Checking an unresponsive person. An unresponsive person is one who fails to respond to stimuli both vocal and physical—(touching or speaking). First make certain the person is unresponsive by gently shaking. If there is no response, check breathing and pulse, but make certain you take adequate time checking these. Call for qualified help. Taking a few seconds to do this may save unnecessary resuscitation damage to a sleeping or merely fainted person.

Greenwood City

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

On the last day of September I took my boat for a tour of the ponds and for a ride up the Sanborn River.

As I approached my boat and lifted to turn it over, I suddenly heard the soft nasal twang from high in the branches; the call of a nuthatch, instantly it was answered by another near by.

Above the weeds on the opposite shore flew a flock of ducks. The sun was trembling on a ridge beyond.

I finished launching my boat and breathed deeply of the air rich with the smell of down leaves and pond water.

I rowed first up pond for some distance then down and across Big Pond. On my return I entered the river.

A short way up, and on the left, I saw where a moose had left tracks in the mud, as it came down to drink.

In many places branches floated, cut by beaver. Just beyond at my right there was evidence where they had been at work. A path from the river led in through the grass and on the left of it were the stubs of alders all in a line and all of different heights. It was fascinating so I went ashore to view it more closely. There was water beyond but no dam, yet. A little brook gurgled as it ran a rocky dell. I could hear an under tone beneath the gurgle. Some night soon there will be no open riffle until another spring.

Back in the boat I rowed slowly up stream. Then just as I rounded a curve three ducks were behind a log which had fallen in to the water. I froze instantly and sat there within 20 feet of them, moving neither oars or eyes, expecting them to fly. The boat drifted nearer; 15 feet and possibly 10 before they became aware of me. A moment of petrified realization; then they were gone. Lucky for them that I wasn't a hunter and that it was the day before the hunting season.

Going a little distance now, I again fastened my boat and explored on shore.

Through a few birches and aspens, around a big pine, and suddenly I was in the quiet and deep green of firs and spruces. Walking among them there was a sense of gloom and timelessness. I became aware of a faint rustling in the trees. Squirrels at work. Just off of me emerged a plump older of a squirrel. He eyed me merrily. Then he scampered across my path with a cone in his mouth, hesitated, appraised me, and then decided I was of no great importance in his line of work, so scrambled up a spruce. He was a beauty, heather brown, rim of white around his eyes, and the creamy contrast of his undersides and that bushy tail really made him outstanding. Anywhere in the forest they are truly interesting.

I noticed red berries on the moss cushioned hummocks like tiny flowers in vases of green.

Out of the timber I climbed the ridge and into Owl Valley. It is from there that I hear the owls hooting, as over the river hangs a thin silver of a moon.

I headed back through the woods leaving the hilltop where I had looked across the miles of purple hills. The afternoon was slipping away. How short it had been!

I rowed down stream and on toward home. The western glow deepening to lavender with streaks of orange and apple green, as I once more fastened my boat. I stood for a moment and watched the reflections in the water, then climbed my driveway thinking of the many things that I had enjoyed.

The last thing that I ever expected to include in a report happened on Saturday. A balloon landed in the field at the farm. It was an adventure, I'm sure, to the two men who stepped from it and came down the hill also a surprise to those at the farm. For some reason it was a forced landing. It must have seemed rather a remote place but in reality it wasn't very far from the road.

Their parting remark at the farm brought a chuckle even though it was given in a polite way, "thank you for 'letting us' land in your field."

There was plenty of activity at the camp ground of some 300 Boy Scouts over the week end. Nice time, nice fun.

Ralph and Regina Leeper, North Kingsdown, R. I., Bob Leeper and son, Jordan, Syracuse, N. Y., were at the Leeper Camp over the week end.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis were: Mr. and Mrs. Moses Swan, their daughter and their grandson of Bryant Pond and Norway; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis, Eva Felton, Kathy Curtis, Irene Stevens, all local; Mildred Bowman, Hebron, and Maydell Oldham, Norway.

Ruth Collins, Freeport, sister of Rena Curtis, visited her one day this week. Ruth's husband, Louis Cogswell of Fort Hood, Tex., also visited Fred and Rena. Albert Curtis, East Sumner, and family were there also. Albert did garden work for his father.

For the week end at the Hayes Homestead, Lenora Waterhouse and Verna Libby, Portland, were there and callers were Glenn Hayes, Gray; Ardell and Betty Hayes, Auburn.

A flock of wild geese honked their way over, here on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Brennan were at their cottage over the week end.

ANDOVER STUDENTS CLIMB WHITECAP

The fifth and sixth graders at Andover Elementary School climbed Whitecap Mountain in Rumford on Friday, Sept. 30, in a combined science/social studies/language arts field trip. The students prepared for the hike by learning how to read topographical maps. They discovered that the top of the mountain is 2,200 feet above sea level.

On the way up the mountain the classes had lessons in tree identification conducted by teachers Roger Sabin and John Emery. Student identified evidence of glaciation and examples of erosion caused by man. After having lunch at the summit, the students wrote stories and poems about their experiences on the hike.

Organisms in a drop of water taken from a pool of rainwater, were examined by the students using a microscope. Students also collected minerals which they brought back to their classrooms. Smoke from the cog railway on Mt. Washington was visible and the Auto Road could also be seen thanks to excellent weather conditions.

Coburn Brook provided welcome relief for thirst and tired feet at the end of the hike. The students and their teachers, Mr. Emery and Mr. Sabin, enjoyed the company of Mrs. Elaine Morton, Mrs. Rosemary Casavant, Mrs. Bonnie Thibodeau, and Mrs. Emily Bean, who served as volunteer chaperones for the expedition.

Gilead

Louise Loring, Corres.

From without—as you pass down Route 2 of Gilead, in the early darkened evening hours, the mountains appear to take on a black velvety dimension, tiny lights glimmer from within the cottages — a large moon rises and peeks over the hills, poking timidly from its grey fleecy lined blankets—one or two stars stare down steadily from above—the streets are quiet—one or two tom cats meet and shoulder up to each other—square themselves away—and with disdainful sneers—each one meanders off to their respective territories.

From within—the crackle of the first evening fire—snaps comfortably upon the hearth—the steam from the old cast iron teakettle wets the window panes, creating tiny rivulets racing downwards to the sash.

Upon the dark oak table, reposing upon a tray of silver—brightly polished scarlet apples grace its center—surrounded by a decorative border of autumn leaves. The aroma of the freshly popped Indian corn—fills the kitchen and tall mugs of spicy ice cold sweet apple cider, stand in rows, awaiting to quench the thirst of any passers-by. The family drifts about each a victim of his own circumstances, grappling with their varied problems of the hour.

But the Circle of Love surrounding them—embraces each individual indivisibly and the serenity of this evening in Autumn—will linger long in the memories to come, making another picturesque setting to frame lovingly in "The Album of Our Lives."

And for you out there who wish to capture life and its enjoyments in a much fuller capacity—may I take the liberty of quoting a poet known to me only by the name of "Grillet". It reads —I shall pass through this world but once. If therefore there by any kindnesses I can show—or any good thing I can do—let me do it now—let me not defer it or neglect it—for I shall not pass this way again.

From this quotation—if practiced—it could solve many of our so-called problems—lighten the loads we all carry—competing the serenity of the fall scene—I have

— Eveline B. Vatcher, Corres. —

Isn't it nice to have the Sunday paper at 5 a. m. delivered to our doors? It will be more enjoyable in the stormy weather. At 5 a. m. I read the "Sunday" in bed while my husband, Joe Vatcher, prepares the breakfast. That's the life.

Senior Citizen's day at the Fryeburg fair was just grand. The foliage was all decked out in its prettiest colors, the weather was hot on the grandstand and many chartered buses and many cars were parked in the parking lot. We didn't get to the animal sheds but know that many were there with their owners and 4-H members. Everything was wonderful. The hot dogs, hamburgers, fried clams, hot pop corn and what ever all did a flourishing business. Foods taste better when it is eaten out doors.

Community Club meeting was held at the hall Wednesday evening. Report from last supper was $189.25. Report from roof committee was roof shingled with little over a square left which will be kept to do the back side in 1984. Voted to pay Joe Vatcher for his time. Voted to serve the next supper on Oct. 22 at 5 p. m. with baked ham, mashed potatoes, squash, carrots, salads, hot rolls, apple and squash pies, coffee and punch. Doesn't that sound good?

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reidy of Massachusetts have spent the past ten days at their trailer on the Trask road and they attended the fair, but Mrs. Reidy didn't like being called a Senior Citizen when she is only 58 years young, but they admitted her free. One of their next door neighbors had a fried dough booth so they had a fried chat. Friday the Reidy's daughter, Laura and family, came and took their children to the fair. Each of the two children had eleven dollars to spend. They said "when it's all gone it will be all done". I'll bet it didn't buy too much. That may be a good way for them to realize that money doesn't grow on trees. Saturday the Reidy's went to Aurora, 40 miles beyond Bangor, where Mr. Reidy helped James Crocker put roofing paper on their camp roof. Mr. and Mrs. Vatcher accompanied them and returned home Saturday afternoon late but the Reidy's stayed over night. They returned to their home Tuesday forenoon.

Callers at Laurence's: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., Dale Coffin and Jeffrey, Jeanne Millett, Joe and Eveline Vatcher.

Many trucks have been hauling sand by our house to the Cooper's D.O.T. has set up a temporary place to mix the "hot-top" that is being put on in several places in different sections of the road and it is an improvement.

Thursday morning as the Vatchers were going to Bryant Pond on business, a large bull moose appeared about 25 feet from their truck, just above Mollycokett Motel. They stopped and watched him as he looked all around, then leiscally entered the bushes below Olive Davis' house. Maybe he was checking on the woodchuck population at Olive's house. As usual the camera was at home on Tri Town will be taking free blood pressures on Saturday, Oct. 15 at the Christmas in October Craft Fair at the Legion Hall in Locke Mills. Come get a routine check of your blood pressure for free and browse the many crafts on display.

Safety Tip of the Week

As the nights are getting cooler, it is the season for wood stoves to keep those houses warm. Hard wood produces less creosote. Closing down a stove too tight will cause additional creosote to build up. And remember that more creosote tends to increase the chances of a chimney fire in your home.

Another long holiday week end and yours truly forgot to mail her items on Saturday so we took a ride up to Bethel Sunday and dropped them in the slot at the door of the Children's office and viewed all the pretty leaves.

The bean hole bean supper at West Summer Grange Hall Oct. 8 and the dance by the old Parisian Orchestra was very well attended and the proceeds were to benefit good causes.

Baseball will have its last fling this week as "World Series" takes place.

Letter to the Editor

To the Taxpayers of Bethel:
I urge you to attend the public hearing to be held in the Fire Station next Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 7 p. m.

Two very important items will be discussed. One is the possibility of changing the town's fiscal year (from the present calendar year of Jan. 1-Dec. 31 to a fiscal year of July 1-June 30). Built with this change would be a tax due date of twice per year instead of the present single payment of taxes.

The second discussion will be centered around the reorganization of the Bethel Water District with the possible change charging the town of Bethel with the administration of the Water District.

The fiscal year change will be voted on at a special town meeting Nov. 1 and the Water District will be voted on Nov. 8 (on the Referendum).

It is a great responsibility for your Selectmen to consider major changes for the residents of the town. We need your help, your thoughts, and your votes. These public hearings are important to your town and your voting experience.

Please attend and then please come and vote. You make the decisions. You have the responsibility and the choice.

Patricia C. Dooen

LIBRARY OPEN HOUSE

Beth Feeney, The committee was assisted in its deliberations by advice from Maine State Library consultant Sheila McKenna. Two volunteers also made valuable contributions during the planning stage: James Yarnell of Upton for architectural considerations and Carol Gersen for interior decoration. Contractors involved included Daniel Gibbs, carpentry; John Greenleaf, electrical work; Frank Gibson, furnace work, and Stephen Blake, interior and exterior painting. The carpeting was installed by Merrill's of Brunswick. The other volunteers made valuable donations of time and skill: Trustee Ruth Feeney made the curtains and Trustee Vice President Cathy Newell refinished the chairs.

The project included the completion of the upstairs back ell as a room for library storage of all types of materials, book sale area and study carrels. In the main room a new librarian's office was added as well as a new check-out counter. The children's section was enlarged and additional shelving was constructed in the stacks. An emergency door was installed and the furnace coverage was expanded to include the upstairs ell.

In addition to the grant from the Bingham Betterment Fund, the library also received some significant donations. A new card catalog was donated by Trustee Mary Valentine and additional fire extinguishers were provided by Trustee Ralph Hall.

The intent of this project has been to make the building more attractive and efficient in the hope of serving its patrons better. Wednesday is a special day for the library and it is hoped all those who can will stop by to see the "new look" and take advantage of the new Wednesday hours.

REBEL FIELD HOCKEY

ONE—WIN ONE
The Rebel field hockey squad traveled to Winthrop last Wednesday with the soccer team. After two sudden death overtimes the score stood 0-0. The team had 40 shots on goal but couldn't put in past the aggressive Winthrop goalie. The second game gave the team a reason to celebrate with a 2-1 victory over the Ramblers.

The soccer team shared in the celebration as the hockey squad had baked enough cookies for everyone!

Thursday found the Sacopec Valley team handed a 3-0 defeat. Chris Davis put the first goal in the net during the first half, and Penny York connected on two during the second period for insurance. Georgia Gould assisted on one of Penny's shots, and Sally Thompson kept the ball coming across the circle. Defensive play prevented the Hawks from scoring on several corner plays. The entire backfield did a fine job; Vicki Dyer, Theresa Wilbur, Cindy Boyle, Anita Kimball, Gertie Gauthier, Jodey Kimball, Dale Robins and Jodi Seidell.

Both squads face Berlin and Yarmouth this week to finish up regular season play. The Rebels are currently ranked number two in Western Maine Class C. Final ratings will be out next week.

THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

Approximately 50 persons attended the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held last Thursday evening in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. As this was the annual "What's It" meeting a number of members brought unusual items ranging from a pruning hook for berry plants to a sick room cup to caulking irons for a corner pipe.

Much interest was expressed in each of the items and members of the audience helped program committee head Helen Morton discuss them. Following the "What's It" portion of the program a film "Home to the Sea" was shown describing the maritime history of Maine from the days of the mast trade through the clipper ship era to the present importance of Bath Iron Works.

During the business portion of of the Bethel Historical Society on Oct. 6, Sarah Stevens, Carolyn Brooks and Alden Kennett look over the artifact of the month, a sign from the Calvin Bisbee grain store on Main Street, now the site of the Bethel Spa Motel. The sign was the gift of the current owners, John E. and Ruth Grover.

The meeting presided over by Vice President Alden T. Kennett, the artifact of the month was announced as a business sign "C. Bisbee" from Calvin Bisbee's grain mill which from 1901-1919 was in the building now the Bethel Spa Motel. This was the gift of the current owners, John E. and Ruth Grover.

The endowment campaign was reported to have exceeded the $5,000 mark with 223 individuals and businesses contributing to date.

A special meeting of the Oxford County League was announced for Saturday, Oct. 29 at 2 p. m. in the Moses Mason House Meeting Room. Earle G. Shettleworth Jr., Director of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission, will speak on the forthcoming historic preservation bond issue to be decided on Nov. 8. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

The next meeting was announced for Nov. 3 at the Moses Mason House meeting room when Society Director Stanley Howe will present a paper "Bethel During the Civil War." Refreshments and a social hour followed the program.

New members this week include Earlon Paine, Bethel; Kenneth and Gwyneth Bohr, Bethel; Edward T. Fleming, Industry, Calif.

Latest contributors to the endowment are Casco Northern Bank, Bethel; Colwyn and Judy Haskell, Bethel; Lillian Bomhoff, Mendham, N. J.; Steve and Lynda Chandler, Bethel; Raymond Fales, Braintree, Mass.; Roxanne Twichell Sly, Brookline; John and Fumiko Head, Bethel. The Society is most grateful for this very generous support.

TELSTAR VARSITY SOCCER WINS TWO MORE

The Telstar varsity soccer team raised its record to 7-3-2 with victories over Buckfield 4-0 and Winthrop 3-0. With two games remaining in the regular season the Rebels have already surpassed several school statistical records and seem well on the way to capturing more.

The Rebels took on Buckfield at home on Monday, Oct. 3 in what proved to be a test of patience as the game ran scoreless through regulation time despite a barrage of shots leveled at the Buck's net by the Rebel attackers. But patience proved to be the key ingredient combined with good aggressive play as the Rebels netted four goals in the two short overtime periods.

Junior Ken Cox playing in his first varsity game began the scoring just 23 seconds into the first overtime on an assist by Brian Whitman. Cox netted the second Rebel counter at 2:05 of the second overtime, this one assisted by Josh Putnam. Bob Myers finished the scoring assisted by Bruce Barth and Shawn Smith with two goals in the final minute of play. The Rebels set a record of 48 shots at the opponent's goal while the Buck's answered with 10 of their own. Shutout goalkeeper Scott Tabb had to stop 8 shots in goal for Telstar while Buckfield goalie Steve Bennett stopped 18. The Rebels then traveled to Winthrop on Wednesday, Oct. 5 to take on the Winthrop Ramblers and came away with their second shutout of the week. Brian Whitman began the scoring just four minutes into the game, netting the only goal needed for a Telstar victory. But Josh Putnam and Ken Cox each added goals of their own to end the scoring at 3-0. Telstar led in shots 34-8 and in corner kicks 5-1 as Scott Tabb had to save on three and Winthrop goalie Chris Cappara stopped 15. The Rebel backs proved to be too much for the opposition as senior Pat McKinney and juniors Ken Whitney, Bernie Haines and Jonathan Head kept the ball away from the Rebel area most of the time.

The two victories pretty much assure the Rebels of a spot in the Western Maine Class C playoffs beginning Oct. 22.

ANDOVER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Sheila McKenna, District Consultant from the Maine State Library, was a guest of the Andover Library Association Wednesday evening, Sept. 28. The trustees were shown a film and given handouts on the duties and responsibilities of trusteeship. Miss McKenna was then open to questions. The next meeting of the Library Association will be Oct. 18 at 7 p. m.

Storyhour is in full swing at the Library Tuesday afternoons from 3 to 4. Preschoolers and Kindergarten students are encouraged to come and join the fun! The first week the children traced leaves on construction paper then cut them out for an unusual name tag. They have also learned some simple sign language and a special message to take home to Mom and Dad. A booklet by Popsom Publications entitled "Let's Go To the Library" is used as a beginning Library skills program. The twofold aim of the program is to help the child learn that the Library is a comfortable and enjoyable place to visit, and what is expected of him or her as a Library user. Edgar the eager beaver is the "friend" that takes the children on a visit to the Library via pages of coloring, cutting, pasting and maybe a surprise or two!

The Library is fortunate to have a new volunteer who helps out. A special thanks to Patricia Drus for the hours of work donated to the Library. Volunteers are an essential part of Library services. Without them many of the programs, exhibits, displays, would be next to impossible. Anyone who has a few hours to spare will be greeted with open arms!

Librarian Janet Hutchings and Substitute Librarian Phyllis Spaulding will be taking a 10 week

FROM THE BETHEL AREA HEALTH CENTER

Accidents and the Elderly

Accidents seldom "just happen" and many can be prevented. Accidental injuries become more frequent and serious in later life. Thus, attention to safety is especially important for older persons.

Many accidents can be prevented by maintaining mental and physical health and by cultivating good safety habits. For example: Falls are the most common cause of fatal injury in the aged. Proper lighting can help prevent them. Here's what you can do: (1) Illuminate all stairways and provide light switches at both the bottom and the top; (2) Provide night lights or bedside remote-control light switches; (3) Be sure both sides of stairways have sturdy handrails; (4) Tack down carpeting on stairs and use nonskid treads; (5) Remove throw rugs that tend to slide; (6) Arrange furniture and other objects so they are not obstacles; (7) Use grab bars on bathroom walls and nonskid mats or strips in the bathtub; (8) Keep outdoor steps and walkways in good repair.

Personal health practices are also important in preventing falls. Because older persons tend to become faint or dizzy when standing too quickly experts recommend arising slowly from sitting or lying positions. Both illness and the side effects of drugs increase the risk of falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wilson and daughter have moved into their new home, formerly part of the Redwood Motel complex.

Members of the Elderhostel group who were at Sunday River Inn, enjoyed a visit at Alden Kenney's one day last week. He showed them his sap house and explained the process of making maple syrup.

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

As I look out the window, I see the leaves slowly drifting down to put a blanket over Mother Earth. The foliage has been beautiful, but most of the vivid colors now fading. There is beauty still for all to see, but in more pastel colors. I love to go riding when the splendor of Fall surrounds us and have taken during this time, I am always fascinated by each and every new view, especially from the higher levels of the roads. If only one could paint scenes as well as Mother Nature does, what a blessing it would be. However, no matter how good the artist is, nothing compares with the real thing, so feast your eyes on the beauty as it will soon be gone and replaced by a different set of scenes.

I forgot to tell you at my last writing that we had a phone call from our brother, Tom, out in Colorado, saying he had been hunting for antelope and had gotten a good one, as well as three grouse. He told me he had the heart of the antelope stuffed and was roasting in the oven. Said it was sending out some savory smells. It was good to hear from him and to know he had good luck getting his antelope.

Monday was a beautiful day, so Russell and I headed for Norway to look at mobile homes. Don't know whether we will get one or not, but had a good time looking anyway.

Peggy is supposed to do a lot of walking out doors, so she and Russell go walking most every day. I envy them as I'd like to go too, but my old legs say NO.

On Tuesday after their hike, Peggy went to do wash; Russell started fixing squash, I did a little baking then canned some tomatoes that were waiting to be taken care of. Peggy's daughter, Loretta Merrill of West Bethel, stopped in for a visit and stayed for lunch with us.

Wednesday was a rainy drizzly day, so Russell fixed another batch of squash to freeze; also peeled what few pumpkins we had and we cooked and froze that. It will be a big help this winter I can assure you.

I had taken my car out to the garage early to have the brakes fixed, but got a call saying they couldn't get the parts until the next week. Barbara Yates had brought Eva Yates to stay with me while her mother was working and both joined us for lunch. After Barbara had left, Russell, Eva and I went to town to do a few errands.

Had Eva again on Thursday and as her Mom has to go to work real early, she left Eva with me about 5 a. m. I had an appointment in Norway, so Peggy took Eva up to her house to stay while Russell and I were gone. Russell had things to do while I kept my appointment, then we went to look at another mobile home that was for sale. It was in Oxford and as a relative of ours lives there, we decided we would call on her, but didn't find Margaret Oman at home. Got home just as Darnita called for Eva. What did we do but get into the car again and head for West Bethel to get our (made to order) shoes. Also looked at a mobile home over there.

Didn't do too much Saturday forenoon as I knew I needed something to take to Grange Saturday night. After lunch, Russell and Peggy went to town while I waited for Darnita to come for Eva, then I rested awhile. Felt a little old I guess.

Didn't do too much Saturday forenoon other than get a casserole ready to take to Grange that evening for the pot luck supper. Didn't know as we would have a Grange meeting as there were only five of us at supper time, but about 7:15, six more people showed up so the meeting was held after all. Our next meeting will be Oct. 22, and hope we have more people show up.

Sunday turned out to be a good day. Peggy decided to do the wash, and after lunch planned to go visit her daughter, Loretta and family, as Rusty was home from college for the week end. He came out to see her after lunch and Russell and I got ready and went to West Paris to visit with our brother Lawrence and wife Grace along with whatever other members of the family might be there. They expect to go back on the job trucking next week, so wanted to see them before they left.

May you all enjoy the splendor of the Fall colors as I do and keep in mind that they may be even better another year.

ANDOVER LIBRARY HAS GYPSY MOTH BROCHURE

Planning to move from a state infested with the gypsy moth to one not infested? If so, you need to know about a new regulation to help prevent the interstate spread of this leaf-eating pest.

"Don't Move Gypsy Moth" is the title of an illustrated brochure that explains the new regulation. Anyone planning to move can come to the Andover Public Library and check it out to make sure they don't take an old pest to a new neighborhood.

The regulation, effective Oct. 3, requires that all outdoor household articles be free of gypsy moth life stages—eggs, caterpillars, cocoons and adults.

State and federal agricultural officials will be checking interstate moves in transit or at destination to make sure they are gypsy moth free.

People moving from the high risk areas will have to inspect their outdoor household articles before they move, or hire a USDA-trained commercial expert to do the inspection for them.

The brochure explains how to inspect for gypsy moth stages, how to dispose of them and provides a record of the do-it-yourself inspection.

Most new isolated infestations are started from gypsy moth egg masses on household articles used or stored outdoors during the gypsy moth's egg-laying stages. Each tan-colored, fuzzy egg mass can contain as many as 1,000 eggs — capable of overwintering to hatch and start a new infestation of the leaf-eating gypsy moth.

WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOC. LEARNS ABOUT GRANGE

Twitchell and Ruby Emery; Refreshments, Louisa Noyes, and Verna Swan; Building Committee, Robert Billings, Ralph Hoyt, LaForest Twitchell, Harold Tyler, and the Society's three Trustees; Research, Ruby Emery, Earle Noyes and Mary Billings; Finance, Mary Billings, Kay Billings, Ruth Tyler, Sandra Brooks. Plans are underway for a project at Christmas proposed by Eva B. Twitchell.

The members were delighted to see new people attending and several old members back. Vice-President Hazel Brooks was again well enough to attend. Mrs. Olive Davis was there, Mrs. Alice Hoyt and Mrs. Beatrice Furman attended; they presented the Society with some fine copper-plates from Arkett's photography studio. Cu-

The Adult Education/Extension workshops provide an opportunity to obtain general knowledge, or to ask specific questions on issues of particular concern, as well as to share successful tips with other gardeners. To enroll, call the S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136, so that sufficient enrollment will be achieved to insure that the program will be offered.

Larry Billings reported in more detail about the Russell-England donations. Kay McAllister informed the members that the reprint of the History of Woodstock by Lapham with a short foreword by Ruby Emery is now available through Whitman Memorial Library. The Library is an excellent place to make these volumes available to all, and since the Library will make a small profit on each book sold, the Society encourages everyone to support this project.
